Tiffiney Nanette (Crowell) Jahn lit a candle in honor of Daisy.

There are no words to express what my grandmother means to me. She has taken care of me when I was sad, sick and disappointed - always on my side. When I was little and would fall and hurt myself, she would hit whatever object I fell on and chastise it for hurting me 😊. The great thing about her is that most people she was close to could also say the same about how important she made them feel. Now, I feel even more blessed to have direct access to her without all the distractions of this physical world. She is with me as she always has been. I knew her before, but, I feel her now. Thanks be to God.

Marycile Echols lit a candle in honor of Daisy.

Candle of love in memory of the time spent with Mrs. Daisy in the Christian Education Ministry on the Union Springs District. May you find peace in comfort in holding dear to your heart the fond memories of your loved one. A sweet soul who took angel wings into the serenity of eternity. Marycile Echols
